The World Federation of Public Health Associations is currently looking for 1 Intern in Communication and Graphic Design for the International Office in Geneva, Switzerland.

WFPHA offers a unique environment for an internship for students in international health and development. Interns are given substantial responsibility for performing activities such as researching and writing articles for the newsletter, establishing contact with health and development NGOs around the world, planning international conferences, and fundraising. Each internship is structured to suit the needs and interests of the intern, such as working on an individual research assignment, as well as the requirements of WFPHA.

During the course of the internship, interns will further develop their writing and research skills and become more familiar with the key issues and actors in international health and development. They will have extensive networking opportunities as WFPHA is an international NGO in official relations with WHO, and has extensive contacts with other organizations worldwide.

Key Responsibilities
- Design and edit video for YouTube and other social media channels.
- Design and create infographics, flyers, animations, etc.
- Assist in the creation of other communication material, if necessary.

Qualification and Experience
- Student or graduate degree in the area of Communication, Graphic Design, or related field.
- Knowledge and experience using the Adobe Creative apps including Photoshop, InDesign, Acrobat, Premiere Elements, and other graphic design software.
- Knowledge of MS Office.
- English: a must, French and others: a plus
- Comfortable with new technologies
- Excellent writing skills (newsletter, reporting, blogs)
- Eager to work within a multicultural and international environment
- Proactive, enthusiastic and creative
- A good team player with a “can-do” attitude
- Good at multi-tasking and working with strict deadlines

Compensation
The internship is unpaid. The organization does not cover re-location expenses and does not sponsor international student visas.

Period
Starts as soon as possible for a minimum of 3 months. The internship may be part-time or full-time.
How to Apply
