Brazilian Collective Health Association

WFPHA membership: Full Members
Representative: Gulnar Azevedo e Silva

40 years of resistance and counter hegemony

Governance structure
Membership: 16,000 individual members (2,500 payed annual fee 2019
74 institutional members

Organizational Structure
General Assembly
President, 10 vice presidents and 11 counselors (election every 3 years)

Three Scientific Committees (Social and Human Sciences in Health; Epidemiology and Health Policy, Planning and Management)
Two Advisory Committees (Science & Technology, and International Relations)
Three Forums: Graduate Programs (Master/PhD) in Public/Collective Health Forum (82)
Undergraduate Courses in Public/Collective Health
Editors of Public Health Journals
21 Thematic Groups (Indigenous Health, Environmental Health, Food and Nutrition, Gender, ...)
Achievements in 2018

“Resistir e Avançar” Plan
Democracy, Inclusive and Sustainable Development, and Health for All

Advocacy for:
1. The maintainance of the National Council for Food and Nutritional Security
2. Mais Médicos Program
3. Indigenous Health Care
4. Mental health Policy

Strategies for increasing vaccination coverage and decreasing infant mortality and

Network actions
Primary health care and universal health system

Brazilian Congress of Collective Health
7,500 people in Rio de Janeiro, participants from 22 countries
5,500 papers presented in 488 oral communication sessions

A tribute to Marielle Franco
Leadership lessons

National partners
National Health Council (CNS), National Council for Food and Nutritional Security (Consea), National Council for Women's Rights (CNDM) and Brazilian Society for the Advancement of Science (SBPC)

Best practices

Scientific Journals: Science & Collective Health and Brazilian Journal of Epidemiology

Communication strategies
Newsletter (40.000 subscribers),
Facebook (147.000 views/month),
Website (80000 views/month) and Twitter (15000 views/month).
Interviews in the main press media:
National: Jornal Nacional, Jornal da Record, Globonews, Bom Dia Brasil, Bem Estar, Profissão Repórter.
International: EL PAÍS, LE MONDE DIPLOMATIQUE, FRANCE CULTURE, DEUTSCHLANDFUNK, BBC, THE GUARDIAN, LUSA, WALL STREET JOURNAL, NEW YORK TIMES, CBC, REUTERS, ASSOCIATED PRESS and CANADIAN BROADCASTING CORP.

National Conferences
Human and social sciences in health
Health Policy, Planning and Management
Epidemiology
Sanitary Control and Surveillance

Constraints

Budget - Conferences, project management and annual fees
Political - an antidemocratic government (ultraliberal economy with stepbacks in cultural customs and cuts in Social Security, Education, Health, and Science & Technology)

Challenge: Keep on our defense on universal health system and democracy